“Chiropractors Unite to Feed Grand Junction’s Hungry”

PRESS RELEASE, GRAND JUNCTION, COLORADO: Family Practice chiropractors across the country are banding together this Thanksgiving to “Help a Neighbor in Need” and support needy families in their communities. During the month of November many of the nation’s chiropractors will be holding “Help a Neighbor in Need” days in an effort to raise food donations for the hungry while providing free health services and evaluations.

On Friday, November 14, Roman Family Chiropractic in Grand Junction will host a “Help A Neighbor in Need” day. The public is invited to attend between 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. and take advantage of free health and wellness information, free spinal screenings and chiropractic adjustments. “Non-perishable and canned food donations will be collected in our office from October 17 through November 14, and all donations are welcome whether you wish to receive free chiropractic services or not,” said Dr. Roman. “It’s just one small way that chiropractors can have a “hands-on” impact on health and hunger in our community,” he said.

Proceeds from “Help a Neighbor in Need” will benefit Food Bank of the Rockies. To find out more, please call Roman Family Chiropractic at 243-8896.
